Artwork by Roxanne Kopp

Stained Glass Class with instructor, Roxanne Kopp.

Beginning in January, Small Group, four- three hour session class Sunday afternoons 1-4p. The art of making a beautiful stained glass panel requires many steps as well as time. Roxanne Kopp likes to allow for plenty of time so students become comfortable with the process before moving to the next step. Each student will be able to complete a stained glass project of their choosing.

Cost: $180. Cost includes all tools and materials, students responsible for individual glass and framing needs. Limit 2-3 per class.

Coming in March 2012: The DSLR Camera: A Beginner's Course First Steps To Advanced Photography

Instructor: Perry Lee www.perryleephotos.com

This course will look at the settings that allow you to break out of "Automatic" mode and explore the full potential of your DSLR camera: aperture, ISO, shutter speed, Depth of field and just what are "The Blinkies" anyway? We will also look at basic composition.

If you have not yet had your camera out of AUTO mode, this is the course for you. All you need to bring are your camera, your user's guide, and the USB cable that connects your camera to your computer. The memory card you are using should be blank as well. Enthusiasm will be a big plus! I will provide a laptop to view pictures.

March 3, 1-4pm

March 10, 9-4pm

Cost: $100.00 Class size limited to six (6) students.

Coming in April 2012: Reflective Surface Technique with gail McDaniel:

Painting silver, copper, glass and other reflective surfaces in primary colors. Experience the shine and sparkle achieved with watercolors at their very best. As traditional watercolorists you will be using the white of the paper to create, as only this medium can, the brilliance of reflective surface paintings.

April 5, 6 and 7, 2012. $185.00
